ATAR Scores

The ATAR is an overall percentile ranking, calculated in steps of 0.05, reflecting the comparative performance of each successful VCE candidate amongst the relevant age group in the given year.

The ATAR is a nationally equivalent measure (e.g. a University Admissions Index [UAI] of 95.00 in New South Wales is equivalent to an ATAR of 95.00 in Victoria). There is a complete exchange of interstate results and ranks between all State admission centres.

College ATAR scores are as follows:

Median VCE Study Score

Study scores are assigned out of 50. They are the standardised scores of each particular subject. A study score of 23-37 indicates the student is in the middle range; a score above 37 indicates the student is in the top 15% of the cohort taking that particular study.

State Median is 30
